JULY 2021
11 copies for £10.00

Beginnings – Editors Page

Dear Readers,

Well what a month June has been. The restrictions on all our lives did not end and now they may end in July. The effect was to have to cancel or (maybe it's only postpone) the Millennium exhibitions in the Church and the Mini Fete around there and in the Village Hall and garden.

What no book stall and village hall teas? No smashing plates – (it's a game - for those of you new to the village which involves smashing unwanted crockery at a safe distance of course) No paintings exhibition and no history exhibition in the church!! Instead though, we have a Village Archive on the website which is being launched (no not by smashing a bottle of champagne over a computer!) on 1st July.

Please look at it and enjoy it. Also, could you complete the questions at the end as it helps with the funding we have for it - FEEDBACK. Thank you

This is also the month when Paula, who has been the priest in charge of Hadstock for 7 years, has retired. Paula has provided much of the driving force behind the millennium project - Hadstock 1020-2020: - A Thousand Years in the Life of a Village and we are sorry that the exhibitions in the Church could not happen before you retired due to the restrictions, but we hope you will come to see them if we are able to do them later in the year. We thank you for all your work and care for Hadstock and at the same time welcome Caroline Currer, who will have oversight of Hadstock St Botolph's. (See her letter)

You have a lot to read about so why not begin now!

Also we had a lot of rain and some hot sun and our gardens have all gone mad with growth!

Best wishes,

Sue

Parish Church of St Botolph's

JULY 2021

Caroline writes:

I write this month to introduce myself as the person who will be taking oversight of St Botolph's Church from this month following Paula's retirement. I am very much looking forward to meeting an increasing number of you over the coming months.

My husband Alan and I moved to Saffron Walden in 1987. At the time, he was working at the head office of Barnardo's, the children's charity, and I was a lecturer at Warwick University. Alan is a Reader, which is a lay person licensed to take services in the Church, and we both became very involved with St Mary's in Saffron Walden, and our three daughters were at the County High School. I was ordained in 2004, whilst still working full time – by then at Anglia Ruskin University in Cambridge. In 2009, we left Saffron Walden for Poynings in West Sussex (close to Brighton) where for the next eight years I was Priest in Charge of four rural parishes – a situation we both loved. After I retired (as we thought!) in 2017, we returned to our house in Saffron Walden. One of the things I took up in that period was painting with Sonia in Hadstock, which I have much enjoyed until lockdown struck. Then in 2019, I was asked if I would consider taking on my current role on a temporary basis. So, I started taking services in Ashdon in January 2020, was licensed as Team Vicar in the Saffron Walden Team on 22 April 2020, and we moved to Ashdon in June - amidst lockdown. My post is for two years until April 2022. When I retire (again!), decisions will need to be made about future ministry in both Ashdon and Hadstock parishes, either jointly (as in the past) or not, and these discussions are beginning, with the full involvement of your PCC in Hadstock.

So what can I do in these ten months as I take services and share life with you in Hadstock? I think the answer is twofold. Firstly, I hope to contribute to sustaining the church in good heart following the sadness of Paula's departure and in preparation to move on to a more permanent arrangement. To that end, I will be chairing the PCC and taking a service of Holy Communion once a month, and Alan will be leading the new Home Team service on the third Sunday. I will also be in the church every Tuesday morning at 8.30am for the weekly service of Morning Prayer, and hope perhaps, as life opens up, to follow Paula's custom of taking an opportunity to see people afterwards. I am not just in Hadstock for church people but for the whole community.

Secondly, I am very aware that relationships can have significance even when they are not over many years. People travel with us in life for shorter and longer periods, and the most important relationships are not always the longest! Being a priest brings me in touch with people at key moments – of happiness or of bereavement, for example, - and I hope that although the time is a limited one, I can contribute something of worth at such times as well as to relationships within the church and the village more widely.

When I was appointed to my current role, no one anticipated that the first year or more would be one of national lockdown and restrictions due to a pandemic. As restrictions ease, I am now meeting many people locally for the first time. Hopefully the next months will offer us all more freedom to get together, and I very much look forward to being with you.

Thank you for your welcome.

Caroline

Would you like to do something for the village?
Would you like to try a new skill? How about joining the church flower rota?

As life starts to get back to some sort of normality, we will be starting the Flower Rota again. Whether you are an expert flower arranger, enthusiastic amateur or just willing to put a bunch of something in a vase, we would love to have some new people join our team.

It is not a difficult or time-consuming role, and unless you choose otherwise, you only do one slot a year. Fresh flowers in the church make such a difference and it can be a surprisingly rewarding experience.

If you would like to volunteer, or just have a chat about what is involved, please get in touch. For those who are already on the rota, thank you in advance and I will be in touch very soon.

Exhibitions and Mini Fete Cancelled

The Millennium Group met on Sunday 13 June

As you can imagine, we had a very challenging discussion about whether we could proceed with the events planned for 26 June - Historic and Art Exhibitions, Mini-Fete, and social gathering in the evening.

The Fete Committee met on Wednesday 16 June.

Both groups reluctantly reached the consensus that, given-

-the announcement from the Prime Minister on 14 June about continuation of restrictions;

-the swift increase in COVID cases across the country; and

-the difficulty of holding relaxed enjoyable social events while social distancing and constraints on numbers are still in force the only prudent course was to CANCEL.

It remains the Group's hope that these events may be possible later in the year when circumstances are more favourable.

In the meantime, the website for the Millennium Community Archive is developing well and will provide a lasting and permanent record of the many things that make this village so special. See later announcement.

Thank you for all you have done towards this imaginative programme.

THE ASSANDUN MILLENNIUM BANNERS

This booklet is a companion to the four banners which were made by the villagers of Hadstock in 2016 for the millennium celebrations of the Battle of Assandun and are now in St Botolph's church.

It describes some of the historical background to the images on the banners from the battle to the foundation of St Botolph's by King Cnut in 1020.

Copies are available now for just £3 from Rick Albrow – rick.albrow@btinternet.com or 01223 893837.

All proceeds to the Friends of St Botolph's.

Time to play?

Dear parents and carers of small children!

Tara Fordham (Eve age 11), Susan Morland (Thomas age 10) and myself (Bertie age 10, Humphrey age 7 and Percy age 4) would like to start a weekly play in the village park. (The Recreation Ground, Moules Lane)

It would be really nice to get to know some other parents and children in the village and with the weather so nice, thought the park would be a great starting point!

We will be there with our children once we've met them from the Ashdon school bus, so about 4ish every Monday (from June 21st).

Any age is welcome, would just be great to see you there!

Many thanks, Tara, Susan and Sarah

Hadstock's Defibrulator

- is located in the old Telephone box by the Village Green

Sudden Cardiac Arrest is an electrical malfunction of the heart where the heart stops pumping blood due to an abnormal rhythm is known as an arrhythmia. This means that no blood can be pumped to the other vital organs in the body. As an individual loses pulse, consciousness and the ability to breathe, they verge on death and can only be brought back to life within a limited window of time using a defibrillator or AED.

A heart attack occurs when a blocked artery keeps oxygen-rich blood from reaching a section of the heart. If the blocked artery is not reopened quickly, the part of the heart normally nourished by that artery begins to die. The patient will probably be conscious.

4 steps to take if someone is having a cardiac arrest

Cardiac arrests can happen to anyone, at any time. The following steps give someone the best chance of survival. If you come across someone in cardiac arrest:

1. Call 999
2. Start CPR immediately.
3. Ask someone to bring the defibrillator from the old telephone box by the Village Green. The 999 operator will tell you where it is and the code to unlock it. Don't leave the patient.
4. Turn on the defibrillator and follow its audible instructions.
Don't be afraid - you can't do anything wrong!

Cllr Sara Porter, cllrporter@gmail.com, looks after our defibrillator. Sara checks it at least every month and we have a maintenance contract with the Community Heartbeat Trust.

It is most important that the first thing you do is to dial 999. You will then have professional support to help you administer CPR and will be told where the defibrillator is and the code to unlock the box.

This procedure also ensures that Sara will be informed that the defibrillator has been used and can get it checked and serviced. There has been an occasion when this did not happen and another when the box was left open. A defibrillator which is vandalised, discharged or otherwise not working is of no use to anyone.

If you are interested in attending a training course on CPR and use of the defibrillator in the Village Hall later in the year then let Sara Porter know

(email: - cllrporter@gmail.com)

In the meantime, the Community Heartbeat Trust website has a lot of helpful advice and information and here is a link to an awareness talk.

BOOK CLUB REVIEW

June 21. Midsummer night. End of lockdown and a Book Group meeting reading a novel called "Summer" by Cambridge writer Ali Smith.

What could be more apt? But of course, it was not to be.

Firstly, there was not the promised end to lockdown, and then the rain poured down all day and into the evening, so even an outside meeting was not possible.

So, on Zoom, as so many times over the last 15 months, we all met to appraise the roller coaster ride that is Ali Smith's style of writing. Prose that is densely packed with poetry, humour, punning, and so many references to Einstein and time, the 1940's and the Isle of Man internment of aliens, current day detention of illegal immigrants, Barbara Hepworth, and the place of the artist in modern times. Add in Shakespeare and Dickens to the mix, and there are so many things to absorb, that reading the book leaves one almost breathless trying to keep up.

"Summer" is the last in a quartet of contemporary novels that began with "Autumn" in 2016 after the Brexit referendum, and was finished this year in the middle of the pandemic. The narrative throughout all four books follows three sets of interwoven characters going back in time as well as living through Brexit and lockdown.

Book Club members were enthusiastic about this clever, insightful, and very contemporary novel.

Barbara Bye

The next meeting is on Monday July 26 when the choice is "The Mermaid of Black Conch" by Monique Roffey.

Thanks Barbara, do I detect an influence of Ali Smith in your writing? Sue - Ed

If you have visited the Recreation Ground recently you might have seen an abundance of wild flowers in the wide margins which have been left uncut. You may even spot some bee orchids, and real bees!

The fruit trees are also doing well and there is at least one tiny apple!

In the late Autumn the grass will be cut right back and some meadow flower seed scattered.

Some more fruit trees will also be planted including some pears.

Red Kites in Hadstock

Bird of the Month

Red kites are magnificent birds. Observing them as they soar on the wing, the elegant way in which they bank into the thermals and swoop down to feed on the ground is a pleasure to observe. They feed on carrion, dead animals and birds, invertebrates and so forth. As such they occupy a different ecological niche to buzzards, which are predators.

Having become largely extinct in the UK, red kites have been re-introduced into several sites where they have thrived and increased in numbers remarkably successfully. Driving through the Chiltern on the M40 one cannot miss the number hovering over the motorway waiting for roadkill. They can be rather distracting!

A small number of red kites have been seen and commented on by Hadstock residents around the village. They are clearly becoming established in this area as they spread from the areas in which they were originally introduced.

Apparently, it is likely that Essex red kites originated from these Chilterns populations.

It seems that in some areas of the country problems are arising where people are feeding red kites by putting out stale meat in their gardens. This tends to attract vermin but also leads the birds to become over-reliant on human feeding. There was a recent case near London where a kite swooped down and took food from a child, causing scratching to their arm.

Both the RSPB and the Springwatch team are recommending that we do not feed them in our gardens but allow them to be part of the natural ecology of the area.

The Springwatch link below provides an interesting account of concerns that are developing.

<https://www.bbc.co.uk/blogs/natureuk/entries/0fbd41aa-6267-3192-8600-194379207d04>

As a biologist I celebrate the lovely wildlife which we enjoy in this attractive countryside. However local residents may wish to be cognisant of the concerns about letting red kites become too closely associated with our homes.

Display Stands

Another good piece of work completed in our Hadstock 1020-2020 programme: see photos of the new woodwork which now displays the three largest of our historic stones.

The work was done by local carpenter and joiner Alan Rowlandson, one of the Rowlandson family with long-standing roots in Hadstock, who has done other projects for us in the past.

The two stones showing figures, found in Hadstock, were previously owned by the Museum and on permanent loan to Hadstock, but were gifted to the PCC in 2019. The third piece is believed to be part of a door jamb.

Thanks to Geoff Morland and Martin Hannam who undertook the heavy work of lifting the stones into their places! and to Janice for posing. Paula

MUSE, MODEL &MISTRESS

CONVERSATIONS about the roles of women in the history of art, with Deborah Monteiro

Exhibitions and displays featuring women artists have become more frequent in recent times, reminding us of their role, as models or muses in works of art but also (somewhat invisible alongside their male counterparts), as professional artists in their own right.

This short course builds on shows that have been on recently or currently, and so will focus on just three areas –

Artemisia Gentileschi (above) in the C17th, Angelica Kauffman in the C18th and the fascinating group of Pre-Raphaelite women in the C19th, (Jane Morris, Christina Rossetti, Lizzie Siddal, Fanny Cornforth) recently exhibited at the National Portrait Gallery.

We will evaluate the status and ambitions, of these women together with their successes and failures. We shall consider the multiple roles expected of them in society viewed alongside individual talent, ambition and opportunity, plus their more famous contemporary male counterparts.

An opportunity thus for you to learn about a topic that is always wanting in the history of art.

4 weeks in the autumn term - dates and fee to be decided at Hadstock village hall

FRIENDS OF ST BOTOLPH'S CHURCH, HADSTOCK

ANNUAL REPORT

Up to December 31st 2020

There is very little to report for 2020 due to COVID. Sadly this has affected all aspects of village life and particularly the St Botolph's Millennium celebrations. The 'Friends' is fortunate to have a regular annual income, especially valuable when we have not been able to hold any fundraising events.

The 'Friends' now have a presence on the new village website, within the Church pages. Thank you to Peter Jarritt for masterminding this project.

The 'Friends' were pleased to be able to support the PCC financially with the programme of works in the church, which were completed in spring 2020.

Thank you to Tim, Jim and Derek for completing the latest section of flint wall in the churchyard, using materials funded by the 'Friends'. The Friends also contributed to a replacement bell rope for the bell tower. It is good to hear the church bells been rung again as we come out of lockdown.

Thank you to all the committee in this strange year, especially Tony, as Treasurer and Robin, as Secretary.

Although not officially in 2020, I would like to take this opportunity to say a special thank you to Paula for all your hard work, support and enthusiasm. We wish Paula a long and happy retirement. We will miss you.

Lou Symes-Thompson

THE HUNDRED PARISHES SOCIETY

www.hundredparishes.org.uk

With school holidays approaching and more people spending time near home, I would like to remind you of the walk routes that are on the Society's website and free to download and print. Over the last year or so, we have been steadily increasing the number of recommended routes. We now offer more than 75 routes covering some 400 miles in total with little repetition. Soon, each of the hundred parishes will feature in at least one walk. Most routes have a mixture of countryside and town or village. There is a good range of distances, from 1 mile upwards. Station walks start and finish at railway stations and all others start and finish at a suitable place to park.

Our aim is to help residents and visitors to easily enjoy the area. The routes are planned so as to use good paths and quiet lanes, and to achieve an interesting mix of scenery. The descriptions seek to ensure that nobody will get lost and also to provide sufficient information along the way to make the outing interesting. The area's abundance of public rights of way, its gentle natural beauty and wealth of listed buildings make this possible. Many walks pass or finish near a pub or tea room, thankfully now open again.

While we can plan the route to pass through attractive countryside and villages, we can't predict what pleasures nature may have in store: perhaps majestic cloud formations, the sights and sounds of birds, the variety of butterflies and insects, the scale of badger diggings, deer prints, even a glimpse of a hare or fox or herd of deer. The seasons bring changes to trees, crops, wayside flowers and fruits. With such potential, each walk can be an adventure. We encourage you to carry a camera.

Ken McDonald, Secretary.

Farewell to Paula

Thank you EVERYONE for being there to give Roger and me such a lovely send off this morning at the end of my final service at Hadstock. It was heart-warming to see the church pretty well as full as we can have it under COVID restrictions, and then to see so many Hadstockers gathered outside. The special touches of the bells at the end, the flowers in the church, and the moving final organ voluntary were wonderful.

Thanks to all the PCC for the beautiful bouquet of flowers presented by Crocky which is now adorning our home; and to Tim and Lou for their kind words. But a deep thank you to EVERYONE for their contributions to the GAVI appeal. The amazing sum of £825 (to be augmented by Gift-Aid to an even higher total) will make a huge difference to so many lives by enabling vaccinations throughout the world, and people we will never meet will have cause to thank you all for your generosity and care.

Crocky and the Bouquet

And, last but not least, thank you all for the welcome and kindness you have given to Roger and myself over these seven years; for all the support you have given in so many ways; for all we have shared together, both the fun and the challenges and the deep stories of our lives.

Roger assisting Paula

Continued

May Hadstock continue to be the special village you have made it, and may you all continue to care for and support each other in the church and village community.

Go well; stay safe and happy; and every blessing for your next chapter.

With my love and prayers to you all
Paula

Thank you to Toby Chandler for the photos

The Hadstock Community Archive
Launched 1st July 2021
<https://archive.hadstock.org.uk>
part of the Hadstock Village website
(hadstock.org.uk)

With funding from the Heritage Lottery Fund, this archive has been developed as part of the Hadstock Millennium Celebrations. Please take time to visit the web site. We would value your feedback and would be grateful if you would complete a short survey as you leave the site.

Do you have any memories that can be captured in the archive? Further contributions are welcome and an option to submit material can be found on the site.
