Beginnings – Editors Page

Dear Readers,

As I am writing this Russia is invading Ukraine!

It seems so incongruous to be in our beautiful, cosy, gentle Hadstock when not many hours away from us the world is being shaken up and may never be quite the same again. I cannot believe that it is actually happening. The poor people being interviewed on the radio seem so young with young children and don't know where to go or what to do for the best or even if they can get there. Sounding so tearful and shocked that their voices are trembling- like a bereavement.

What can we do?
How can we help?
Any ideas?
Please let me know.
Best wishes

Parish Church of St Botolph's

MARCH 2022

Caroline writes:

'March winds and April showers bring forth May flowers' Well, we have had the March winds a little early this year, and just survived Storm Eunice and Storm Franklin (whatever will they call the next one?). They have come with their own dose of early but rather heavy April showers, too, and thankfully the local damage seems not to have been too great. We have been worried about the tiles on the roof of the church – elsewhere in the magazine you will see that we have had some good news about some extra grants for repair work, and with your help we may be able to start remedial work soon. See details of events organised by the friends of St Botolph's, including the Bacon Butty Breakfast on 12th March.

March is not only the season of winds; it is also the season of Lent. Actual dates vary with the date of Easter, but this year Lent starts on Weds 2nd March (Ash Wednesday), when there will be a service in the morning at Hadstock. It used to be the case that we asked each other 'what are you giving up for Lent?' with chocolate being a favourite, making Easter eggs at the end of the period of abstinence all the more appealing. These days I doubt if most people know when Lent starts, or perhaps even what it is.

Lent is a period of fasting that has a long history, with records dating from AD300 or earlier. Although details vary, it lasts for 40 days up to Holy Week and Easter. Similar fasting traditions can be found in other religions – the Islamic fast of Ramadan is perhaps the most familiar. Within a religious context, the purpose of fasting is to focus the mind upon the spirit, rather than the body, and spiritual disciplines of prayer or reading are usually also part of the season. This is quite different to such practices as 'a dry January' when people might give up alcohol for health reasons or as an antidote to overindulgence at Christmas.

For many years, I have run Lent courses when groups of people meet to read and discuss a particular book or theme, and I have found this very beneficial. Christian Aid also have various suggestions on their website (www.christianaid.org.uk), including a 'walking humbly' podcast. Their focus is upon caring for our planet and also the needs of those in poorer parts of the world.

In our Diocese of Chelmsford, however, our new Bishop Guli is encouraging us to observe a 'Holy Sabbatical' with the aim of 'using the period of Lent to pause, mark some of the changes we have experienced during this period of great change and then set our faces to the future, leaning into what God is calling us towards'. There are resources for this on the website (www.chelmsford.anglican.org) Do have a look. Whether you do this within a religious context such as Lent or not, it is certainly worth taking time to reflect after these past few years, and to consider how the COVID pandemic has changed our priorities.

Mothering Sunday is always the fourth Sunday of Lent, and used to be a time when young people in service were given time off to go home and visit their mothers. It is also considered to be a day when the Lenten fast can be broken. Here at St Botolph's we are planning a special service at 4pm on 27th March, in the Village Hall, with a focus upon young people and activities for them, along with tea and cakes - and flowers to give to their mothers. Do join us. What with this and the Bacon Butty breakfast, Hadstock will be feasting rather than fasting during Lent this year!

with all good wishes Caroline.

More Fruit trees planted on the Recreation Ground - (- At the end of Moules Lane)

On Sunday 13 February at 10 o'clock, 1 car, 7 people ,1 dog, 2 wheelbarrows, assorted spades, forks, buckets and watering cans, compost, fertilizer, stakes, ties guards, 6 (quite small) fruit trees and not forgetting the root-grow and several woolly hats, arrived on the Rec. Our aim was to plant the new fruit trees to join the ones already planted there last year. (To make Hadstock better/greener for wildlife and people)

It was a bit windy! Everyone tackled the task with enthusiasm, gusto and verve. A lot of umph went into the digging. Many lightweight tree guards were chased across the Rec and all retrieved, luckily. In about an hour the task was done. All trees watered, woolly hats replaced and a photo taken.

Thank you to Denise, Alan, Lou and Tusker (the dog) Sarah, Lil, Rick and me

St Botolph's Church Hadstock, - Chancel Roof

Roof in March

The recent storms have caused the Chancel tiles to slip further although none have fallen and there is still no sign of damp within.

Clearly the work to replace the roof needs to be started as soon as possible particularly as costs of most building materials are increasing. There is good news though in that, two further grants have been received from the Garfield Weston Foundation (who have supported us before) and the Fowler Smith and Jones Trust. We are now close to having enough to start the work but remain cautious as until the roof is stripped, we don't know the full extent of the work required and once started there will be no going back.

Charles Spencer

The earliest date recorded on any of the gravestones and memorials in the Church and churchyard is 1796. Martha Spencer died on 3rd August 1796 at the age of 69.

Her broken gravestone is stacked on the south wall of the Church. The Rector's census of 1792 notes her as 'papist'.

Her son Charles Spencer was one of the largest landowners in Hadstock in the early 1800s, farming about 150 acres. Whilst he and his family lived in the village most of the landowners at the time lived elsewhere.

In 1786 Charles complained to the Rector that the Hadstock landowners who lived in Linton should pay more in tythes as their Hadstock land was more productive than their Linton holdings. There is a memorial tablet to Charles, who died in 1827, and his wife Sarah on the north nave wall.

They had two children Samuel and Elizabeth.

The headstones in the churchyard are rather scattered. Most of the burials are in unmarked graves as the cost of a headstone would have been prohibitive for most families. Some headstones have been stacked around the outside walls of the church as they were broken or unsafe. Many headstones in the churchyard simply record names and dates but some give clues to the lives of those buried.

In 2010 a group of villagers recorded all that was legible of the inscriptions on the headstones and memorials. Some of this has since become unreadable. The record of this is available on the Hadstock Archive Website at:

<https://archive.hadstock.org.uk/hadstock-gravestone-records/>.

A paper copy is also available in the Church

The Queen's Platinum Jubilee Friday June 3rd Save the Date!

Friday 3rd June is the day Hadstock will be celebrating the Queen's Platinum Jubilee. Activities suitable for all ages are taking place.

Friday afternoon from 1pm - 4pm

The Jubilee Village Picnic on the Recreation Ground

(weather permitting)

All residents of Hadstock are invited to bring savoury picnic food and something to sit on. Cakes, drinks, crisps and ice creams can be bought from Hadstock's own Tilly's Travelling Tearoom who has agreed to set up on the Rec for the afternoon. Big games will also be available.

Friday evening at 7.30pm The Jubilee Village Barn Dance - at the village hall.

You are invited to put on your dancing shoes and join well-known local Ceilidh band - The Lairds - for an evening of dancing. Places are limited and tickets will be available to purchase after Easter. Cost approximately £15 each. Eat at home beforehand and bring your own drinks

Jubilee Commemoration Gifts

To support the Queen's wish to plant a Green Canopy over her kingdom, the Parish Council is planning to buy 30 young trees to give to families with primary-aged children. These will be given to the first 30 families who apply. The trees will be native British species and can be planted straight into the garden. They will come with a tiny commemorative sign so that our youngest Hadstock residents can be reminded of the Platinum Jubilee as their trees grow.

Helpers? – More wanted please

As you can imagine, these things do not happen on their own and are always better when split between a group of willing helpers - if you think you might have a few hours to spare please send an email to The Editor, Hadstock Parish Magazine hadstockmag@live.co.uk - your help is greatly appreciated.

Cllr. Jude Hannam for the Parish Council

Hadstock Parish Precept

At its January meeting the Parish Council voted for a precept of £11050 for the 12 months starting April 2022. This will mean a Band D tax of £64.61 an increase of £2.42 per year or 3.9%, the first for 3 years. During this time, we have made improvements to the Recreation Ground, including fencing the play equipment, new play equipment and a new bench as well as resurfacing parts of Len's Path. Much of this has been paid for by grants which the Parish Clerk was successful in securing; however, our reserves have declined from £14,600 at April 2019 to an estimated £7,600 at April 2022, still a healthy figure. You can see our budget for 2022/23 on the Hadstock website.

There will be an Annual Parish Meeting this year on Friday May 6th at 8pm in the Village Hall when you can hear a report on the Parish Council's activities and raise any matter relevant to the Village.

Rick Albrow
Chairman, Hadstock Parish Council.

The Village Pond

Last autumn a small group tackled the overgrown area at the church end of the pond to clear it and to allow in more light. This was the advice given by pond experts because you may have noticed a growing prevalence of green algae on the surface.

Having cleared that, the next task was to repair a leak that has been apparent for some years and has left the pond level at least 15 cm lower than it should be and has meant that the water leaving the pond has been seeping out and not through the drain cover near to the road.

There is a drainage pipe that can be opened when the water needs to be drained out to enable the dead vegetation in the bottom periodically to be cleared out and also to remove any other plant life that is growing too densely. John Lockton and I have removed the old degraded pipework and inserted new pipes and the leak has been eliminated.

roadside drain.

A team came together on the 5th February and, as can be seen from the photographs, a large amount of foul-smelling mud was removed and the pond has now refilled, is up to its proper level and the water flow is exiting through the Village Hall officially reopen for bookings

On top of the various village events coming up this Spring and Summer the Village Hall Committee would like to update Hadstock residents on what has been going on at their village hall.

The Committee successfully applied for a Covid disruption grant to enable Covid safe events to continue to take place in the hall. As a result, a permanent Pergola has been built and the patio extended so that events can carry on outside, even in bad weather. New outdoor chairs and tables are being ordered. New outside lighting means that evening events can easily be accommodated. The kitchen is now back in full use, so serving food is also possible.

The photos included show what the new patio looks like.

Remember as villagers you get a special rate to hire of only £10 an hour which is very competitive compared with other local facilities. There is ample parking and the Committee also has experience of various food vans if you are interested. Please see the village website for more details and availability. -<https://www.hadstock.org.uk/village-hall/facilities-and-bookings/>

Try out the new facilities when the Portable Pint pub night will be here on Saturday 26th March with LOL's Pizza van on site. Order pizzas on their facebook or website beforehand.

THE HUNDRED PARISHES SOCIETY

www.hundredparishes.org.uk

The Society has now sold all 800 copies of its first hardback book The Hundred Parishes: An Introduction.

There will be no reprint, although we have open minds on the possibility of a second book. Preparation of our first book took several years and was only possible because of the vast resource of what had already been written, in far more detail, about individual places, people and events. The Society holds more than 300 local books and pamphlets.

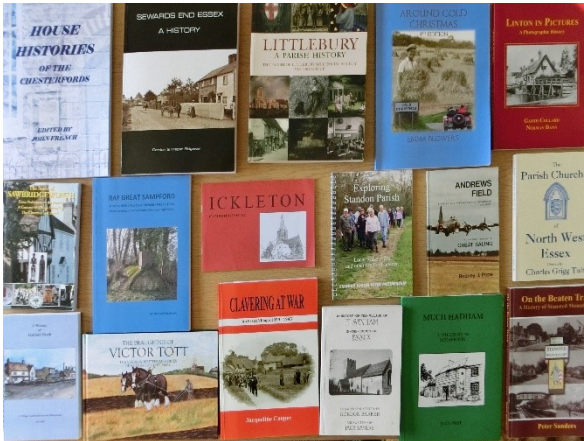

The Society's website www.hundredparishes.org.uk has recently been updated to ensure, amongst other things, that individual parish introductions include references to their share of available literature. A good number of local books are available, in person or online, from the four excellent outlets that each sold many copies of the Hundred Parishes book: Harts and the Tourist Information Centre in Saffron Walden, the TIC in Bishop's Stortford and Between the Lines bookshop in Great Bardfield.

A few parishes, as yet, have no book of their own, or perhaps just a pamphlet available in the church, whilst other places have extensive coverage. One of the Society's trustees, Peter Sanders, conducted research for 30 years before compiling a definitive history of Stansted Mountfitchet. Another easy-to-read classic, Littlebury: a Parish History, was produced by a team of authors. I have recently been absorbed by a largely pictorial history of Swards End and by the 4th edition of Around Cold Christmas, not least because the latter has frequent references to my wife's distant relatives. Clavering's Jacqueline Cooper always seems to be working on yet another book about Clavering or Saffron

Walden.

Several local history societies have generated books or booklets, or have work in progress. So rich is our local history that there is no shortage of reading material or potential subject matter.
