MAY 2022

11 issues for £10.00

Beginnings – Editors Page

Dear Readers,

First of all -its May - does this mean summer? I hope so it warm and sunny today as I write this.

Secondly, I apologise about not changing the month on the front of last month's Mag! You got March again instead of April, but at least the picture and colours were different! Sorry. Perhaps we should have a competition 'Guess the month? so I could leave the month name out and you could decide when the Mag arrived on your doormat what month it is.? In that way we could all avoid having some of the winter months that we might not like. Or doesn't it work like that? Do we have to have the cold, wet, dark weather in order to appreciate the warm sunny days? I think so.

There are a few new items for you this time. The Rector's letter from Jeremy Trew; A second book club to enjoy; More information about the Jubilee and the Fete events and a new bench with plaque, to rest on.

In the mean time seek out your old bunting or even make some new.

Until next month....

Best wishes

Sue

Parish Church of St Botolph's

Now that Caroline has retired, each month we will be giving you the letter from the Rector of St Mary's Saffron Walden

RECTOR'S LETTER - REV'D JEREMY TREW MAY 2022

I'm writing this in between preparing for our Easter services. This is the greatest of Christian festivals and one of the busiest times of year for clergy. Yes, we really are expected to work more than one day of the week. The cheek of it!

Looking out of my study window I can see the garden springing to life and hear the distant wail of a lawnmower calling its faithful to that regular summer ritual of holding back the tide of nature. It will be good not to have any major festivals for a few months and instead turn my attention to other tasks, even the garden.

It would be good, if that were the case, but it is not. During this month we mark the Ascension, the time when the risen Jesus ascended to the Father. Ascension is actually a hugely important event in the Christian story: Jesus is born at Christmas, dies and rises at Easter, and ascends at Ascension (obvious when you think about it). For Christians its significance is that the story can now continue with a new chapter: Pentecost, and the birth of the Church, becomes possible. In these events the task that Jesus took upon himself in his teaching and serving is transferred to a new body of people, the Church, who are ordained by God to carry on that task until Jesus returns again.

The work of Jesus is, at least in theory, the work the Church tries to do today. Okay, sometimes we get it wrong, even disastrously so. More often we think that Sunday is the task of the Church, when actually it is our day off, the time when we gather together to be refreshed in our faith so that we can continue in God's work the rest of the week. Ultimately, the true meaning of this Christian faith is conveyed, not in our ceremonies and sermons, but in our daily living each day. That's a demanding task but one, as Ascension and Pentecost remind us, we do not struggle with alone.

Yours Jeremy

Magazine subscriptions

Most people have now paid their Hadstock Magazine Annual Subscription - thank you for your support.

We would presume those few who have not paid the subscription don't wish us to continue delivering the magazine, and we will therefore cease delivering the magazine to you. But should you wish to pay for the Magazine, it is £10.00 per year (11 monthly editions). Either pay the sub to the person delivering your magazine, or drop it into my home on The Green (Waylands). This will ensure we deliver the magazine to your home

Thank you - Robin Betser

Hadstock Book Club

APRIL 2022

Although only a few members of the group were able to meet, we had an interesting discussion about our chosen book: Jack by Marilynne Robinson. Although this is actually the fourth book in her Gilead series, none of us had read any of the others so we discussed it as a 'stand-alone' novel.

Jack, who is white, is the estranged son of a Calvinist minister, and has a history of vagrancy, alcoholism and petty crime. He has spent time in prison. Living in St. Louis, Missouri, he meets Della, an African American high school teacher and daughter of a Methodist Bishop. At their first meeting, sheltering from the rain, he steals a book from her. Their burgeoning friendship, which develops into love, is set against a background of racial segregation and intolerance. Set in the period just after WW 2, this social construct around race is upheld by both religious communities which try to persuade Jack and Della that they should part.

The novel shows us how they try to negotiate safe spaces where they can be together and how their love story develops.

Our next book will be: Small things like these by Claire Keegan.

Flowers for the Fete

To celebrate our wonderful fete returning after two quiet years, I thought it would be great to have the church decorated with lots of beautiful flowers for the fete weekend. If anyone would like to join me and help with the flower arrangements, please get in touch.

Hadstock Book Club II

The inaugural meeting of the new Hadstock Book Club II was a lively debate on Alastair Hazell's The Last Slave Market. The history of the ending of the slave trade in the Indian Ocean centred on the island of Zanzibar, now part of Tanzania. The story centres on the Scottish doctor John Kirk, who with Dr David Livingston first set off up the Zambezi to find its source. The voyage was a disaster but encountered large areas around Lake Nyasa being stripped of people for slavery by Arab traders. He returned to Zanzibar determined to stop the trade. Here, together with his young wife Nelly, he spent years quietly studying how the slave trade worked, how it was financed, and the sources and destinations for the slaves, until he had made the contacts needed, and had the authority required, to lead to its being stopped, thereby saving thousands of lives.

The group found it a fascinating, if uncomfortable read, but which covered a time of British Imperialist history about which little is known. A sense of admiration for Kirk's dramatic story as a forgotten Victorian hero, yet a story very pertinent to the world we now live in where people-trafficking and bonded labour still take place.

At our next meeting we are looking at the changing writings of David Attenborough from the start of his career when he wrote The Adventures of a Young Naturalist to the more recently written A Life of Our Planet – my witness statement and vision for the future.

The Queen's Platinum Jubilee Friday June 3rd

Friday 3rd June is the day Hadstock will be celebrating the Queen's Platinum Jubilee. Activities suitable for all ages are taking place.

Friday afternoon from 1pm - 4pm

The Jubilee Village Picnic on the Recreation Ground

(If wet at the village hall)

All residents of Hadstock are invited to bring savoury picnic food and something to sit on. Cakes, drinks, crisps and ice creams can be bought from Hadstock's own Tilly's Travelling Tearoom who has agreed to set up on the Rec for the afternoon.

Big games, to do, available too.

Then Friday evening at 7.30pm

The Jubilee Village Barn Dance/Ceilidh-

at the village hall.

You are invited to put on your dancing shoes and join well-known local Ceilidh band -The Lairds - for an evening of dancing. Places are limited and tickets are available to purchase now - Cost only £10 00 each Eat at home beforehand

Drinks available from The Portable Pint

Jubilee Commemoration Gifts

To support the Queen's wish to plant a Green Canopy over her kingdom, the Parish Council is buying 90 saplings to give to residents who would like one. These will be given out on the Rec.at the Picnic. The trees will be native British species and can be planted straight into the garden. They will come with a tiny commemorative sign so that Hadstock residents can be reminded of the Platinum Jubilee as their trees grow.

Helpers? – More wanted please

As you can imagine, these things do not happen on their own and are always better when split between a group of willing helpers - if you think you might have a few hours to spare please send an email to The Editor, Hadstock Parish Magazine hadstockmag@live.co.uk - your help is greatly appreciated.

ANNUAL PARISH MEETING

On Friday 6th May 8pm, at the Village Hall

You are invited to the Annual Parish Meeting.

As well as a report on what the Parish Council has done over the last year, there will be an opportunity to ask questions and to raise any matter you wish which is relevant to the Village. Previous years we have had discussions on speeding and traffic, Recreation Ground and play equipment, the King's Head and development.

The meeting is open to all local council electors. Motions can be proposed and voted on but as this is not a Parish Council meeting any vote is not binding on the Parish Council.

Do come along.

Rick Albrow.

HADSTOCK QUIZ 2022.

Bunting for the Queens Platinum Jubilee Celebrations

This is the 'official bunting but if you have any colour bunting from previous parties and events would you like to find it and get it ready to use in time for the Jubilee celebrations weekend on the 2nd, 3rd, 4th and 5th of June long weekend? Decorate your house, walls, and hedges - anything that is safe to drape it on and in a safe way. It's not going to happen again any time soon so let's remember the event in Hadstock

Also have a look at what events are planned around the country at <https://www.royal.uk/platinum-jubilee-central-weekend>. There is bound to be lots of information in the newspapers in the next few weeks so you will get to know what's happening easily.

Also look at <https://platinumjubilee.gov.uk/event/platinum-party-at-the-palace/> for more news

A good present any time of the year or treat yourself

Every year the play equipment on the Recreation Ground has an independent safety inspection and once again the inspector praised the facility for such a small village. Some of it is getting a bit old and will need replacement in the coming years but otherwise only minor maintenance is required. All of the equipment seems to be well used, including the new see-saw. The Heritage Orchard is doing well and all of the trees have taken. There is a mix of apple, pear and gage and in future years the fruit will be there for you to enjoy.

The Recreation Ground was purchased by the Parish Council from Samuel Crawley in 1908 by public subscription for £200 and is protected by covenants from development. Hamish McIlwrick found this plaque in his treasure trove. The date of it is unknown and it was never put up.

Hadstock Fête – Saturday 18th June - How to help

Produce for Stalls & The Hog Roast

We are now fast approaching Fête Day and this is when we need your support on various fronts, just as we always do.

To make the day really successful we need as much of the following as we can have:

Books;

Bric à Brac;

Cakes (all you bakers get ready)

Crockery-condition immaterial-for Crazy Kitchen;

Toys;

Bottles for Tombola;

Gifts to go on a tombola stall;

Good quality nearly new ladies clothing (for Karen Greaves & Lynn Raddon)
Please note: no furniture or electrical items.

Every household will receive this hand delivered note. Please deliver all your “produce” to Felix & Laura’s barn at Hadstock Hall – but not before the beginning of June. If you are unable to do so or would prefer not to do that, please let us know on 01223 892746

(Tim Boyden) or t.k.boyden@btinternet.com and we’ll be in touch.

The evening Hog Roast tickets at the Village Hall are selling fast. They cost £12 and are limited in number. Please contact Lynn Nuttall on 01223 893355 to secure yours.

We have already volunteers to run stalls but we do need more so that stallholders can be relieved and have the opportunity to walk around and enjoy the Fête.

If you are new to the Village since 2019 this is a great opportunity to help the community and get to know everybody.

Thank you for all your help and support.

The Fête Organising Team

THE HUNDRED PARISHES SOCIETY

www.hundredparishes.org.uk

Public and private gardens provide opportunities for pleasurable exercise and social interaction. Our local sunny climate and fertile soils have encouraged those with green fingers to hone their design and horticultural skills to create some outstanding flower-rich gardens for their own delight. Some, like Bridge End Garden in Saffron Walden, are free but entry charges do apply at others.

Many delightful gardens are listed in the current National Garden Scheme handbook and website, www.ngs.org.uk. This is a major showcase for owners who are willing to share their gardens with others; last year £3 million was donated by visitors to help nursing and health charities. Some gardens have limited opening days, others more frequent opportunities to appreciate seasonal changes; some offer opportunities for booked group visits.

Some gardens open early to showcase spring flowers but as spring gives way to summer, more are opened to show off the variety of brightly-coloured blooms and intense floral fragrances, especially from roses. Enthusiastic and knowledgeable owners may specialise in growing cottage garden flowers, others in designing hidden features or ponds and all are willing to share their passions with visitors.

With so many varied gardens to visit it is a challenge to decide which one should top your list! I would recommend including Easton Lodge, where Harold Peto's Italian garden is always colourful and recent restoration works to the balustrade have enhanced this area.

Throughout the summer at Henry Moore Studios & Gardens at Perry Green, many of Moore's sculptures are displayed in a garden setting and an exhibition focuses on his work in the Sixties.

The What's On listing on the Hundred Parishes website includes dates for individual open gardens and also where a village has organised a group of open gardens, sometimes with added attractions like cream teas. Enjoy!

The rising cost of heating your home

Over a quarter of homes in Uttlesford use Oil or LPG to heat their homes. Due to the recent situation in the Ukraine, heating oil prices and supply have been severely disrupted; prices continue to be very high and volatile, ranging from 90ppl to 150ppl. During these unprecedented times, you may wish to consider ordering smaller quantities or waiting to top-up if possible. If you do need to place an order, it's even more important than usual to shop around to ensure you are getting the best price. You can do this on one of many price comparison websites

www.oil-club.co.uk

www.boilerjuice.com/

www.fueltool.co.uk/

Joining your local heating oil club is another great way of finding savings. Speak to your Parish Council or neighbourhood group. Or visit the Uttlesford District Council website for more information: <https://www.uttlesford.gov.uk/article/5783/Set-up-or-join-an-oil-club>

With the price of oil at an all-time high, the risk of theft rises. Make sure your heating oil is covered under your household insurance so that if thieves do strike, you will be able to make a claim to replace not just the lost oil, but also cover the cost of any repairs to the damage thieves may have done. However, be aware that most insurance companies will expect you to install some preventative measures, as tank alarms, security lighting and other deterrents to try to stop your heating oil from being stolen.

LPG is an alternative to heating oil for those not on mains gas. Whilst fuel prices are higher than oil, boiler and tank replacement costs are much lower. You can find more information here:

<https://www.theheatinghub.co.uk/oil-verses-lpg>

If you are struggling to heat your home and pay for oil, LPG, mains gas or electricity, the team of energy specialists at Uttlesford Citizens Advice are here to help. They can check your benefit entitlements and offer advice on energy efficiency measures and home improvement grants. They can also provide support to manage fuel related or any other debts and access emergency funds on your behalf, if needed.

If you would like to help people get the advice and confidence, they need to tackle their problems, Uttlesford Citizens Advice would love to hear from you! The local charity is in urgent need of volunteers who would like to train as advisers and someone with a background in accountancy or finance to join the board of trustees as Treasurer.
