JUNE EDITOR'S NOTE

This issue carries updates from two of our favourite regulars — news from the fete committee on what always proves to be a highlight of the summer, and the latest from Sustainable Hadstock whose work continues to make a real difference. Alongside them, we are delighted to welcome Hadstock Performing and Creative Arts Society as a new regular feature, and this month's centre spread.

Time to stop

When I was a child my mother took me to see the musical, ' Seven Brides for Seven Brothers'. It was a film she loved, but I was a different generation and it seemed so old-fashioned, the dancing seemed too exaggerated, too frenetic to me, there was little that seemed natural. However, the bit I recall most was when the sisters were in their bedroom singing about wanting to be a June bride. (They did so, as I remember, wearing long pantaloons and frilly white bodices – it was all rather puzzling to my childhood self!) However, I did take away the message that June was a popular month for a wedding.

It was years later that I discovered that Juno, for whom the month is named, was the Roman goddess of Marriage and childbirth. It appears June has been associated with weddings through the ages, from the Romans on down. In the UK today websites recommend June weddings because, statistically, there is less rain in June than in other months (although, the number of matches rained off at Wimbledon would seem to contradict that!).

Either way, June is officially the beginning of Summer, between the showers, it is sunny, the world is wonderfully green, the roses are out, and the birds are singing their hearts out. The longest day of the year, the summer solstice is on June 21st and it's that, astrologically, which marks the beginning of Summer. The promise of long evenings ahead, and, of course, our own wonderful Fete, it's no wonder that we want to get out and 'do'.

However, the other thing I learnt recently is that 'solstice' is a combination of the Latin words sol for 'sun' and stitium for 'standing'. At the Summer solstice, the Sun reaches its highest and northernmost points in the sky, and Earth's North Pole tilts directly toward the Sun. In fact, the Sun's path appears to stop before reversing direction. (In late December, the Sun appears to stand still again, when we experience the winter solstice—the shortest day.)

Of course, we want to get out and have a good time, but perhaps the Sun has something to teach us, it appears to celebrate its high point by standing still. "What is this world if full of care? We have no time to stand and stare", says the poem we learn at school. I think it's no coincidence that Summer seemed to be endless when we were little. For when we were little, we would stop and look closely at the grass, we would search the clover to see if any had four leaves for luck, we had time to stop and drink in the magic of the world around us. June is a good time for socialising, it's a good time for weddings, but it's also a good time to stop, look and listen, and drink in the beauty all around us. Perhaps, by stopping, we might even hear a still small voice talking to us in love.

Summer blessings to you all, Revd. Romey Poston

NEW REGULAR FEATURE

HADSTOCK
& CREATIVE
ARTS SOCIETY

Performance. Creativity. Community.

HPCAS grew from sell-out Christmas panto performances and a cast, crew and wider membership that wanted to build from that foundation. We have set up as a dynamic voluntary organisation, built a 2026 programme and are now asking the local community to help shape what comes next.

All welcome

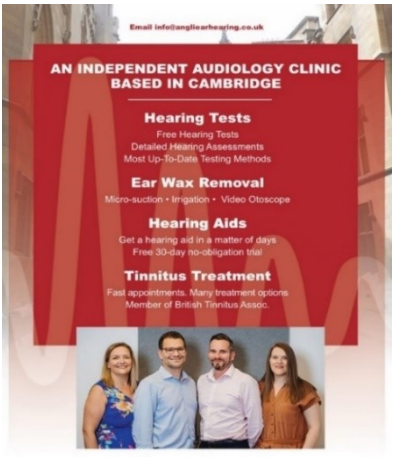

There are lots of ways to get involved. No experience, special equipment, lots of time or skills needed — just curiosity and enthusiasm.

Perform	Are you a hidden talent? Actor, comedian, dancer, singer or musician, for example? Whether you seek a supporting / leading role or just more details, we would love to hear from you.
Create	Could you help behind the scenes, with costumes, scenery, props, lighting, music, photography, social media or scripts?
Support	Would you like to be a member, propose ideas, volunteer at, or attend events?
Tell us	What would you most like to see HPCAS put on?
Updates	Can we add you to our mailing list?
	Scan to answer one or more of these questions, to shape our future, or to reserve tickets.

Everyone is welcome. Our membership is free.
And if cost is ever a barrier, please contact us in confidence.

Hadstock Annual Parish Meeting 2026

Hadstock's Annual Parish Meeting took place on Friday 24 April 2026 in the Village Hall, held alongside the Village Pub Night. The combined event created a warm, wellattended evening where residents could hear updates, ask questions, and share ideas. Cllr David Johnson chaired the meeting, with humour and knowledge of council affairs

Cllr Johnson opened with an overview of past work, ongoing challenges, and priorities for the year ahead. Transparency, accountability, and resident involvement remain central to how the Council operates, and residents were encouraged to consider joining especially as there is a councillor vacancy and having the full compliment of councillors makes a huge difference.

Highways issues continue to dominate village concerns. The dangerous Walden/Linton/ Bartlow junction remains a recognised highrisk location due to accidents and the nature of our roads. Speeding through the village, despite the 30mph limit, and difficulties caused by large vehicles mounting pavements were also highlighted.
Walden Road's drainage failures, collapsing sections, and verge damage remain unresolved, while Linton Road potholes, and flooding add to the maintenance pressures.
The Council continues to press Essex Highways for action, explore vehicleactivated signs, and support community speedwatch volunteers.

The Council reviewed a wide range of planning applications over the year. Objective objections were submitted to major developments at the Coal Shed site and the Stansted Airport expansion due to environmental and traffic concerns.
The Council supported the heritagesensitive conversion of the Control Tower on Bowsers Lane, ensuring conditions were in place to protect its character.
Work continues to improve how planning information is shared with residents, including routine tree and household applications.

The Recreation Ground saw significant investment this year.
New play equipment was installed and warmly welcomed by families. Annual safety inspections led to prompt repairs, and new benches and a reinstated memorial plaque have improved comfort and celebrated local heritage. Free remedial work on the climbing tower saved the parish additional costs.

Sustainable Hadstock's volunteer groups continue to make a real difference.
The Biodiversity Group has enhanced local habitats and supported wildlife, while the Pathways Team has been mapping and improving public rights of way to ensure better access for all. Work also continues on a new village information board and signage, supported by grants and dedicated volunteers.

The Council reaffirmed its commitment to good governance and clear communication.
New official email addresses for councillors and the Clerk have improved accessibility.
The 2024/25 audit was completed without comments, demonstrating strong financial management.
The parish precept for 2026/27 is £16,627, a small increase of £3.86 for a Band D property.
Updates on finances and Council work continue to be shared through the village magazine and website.

Priorities for the coming year include tackling highways issues, completing village signage projects, and further enhancing the Recreation Ground.
Residents were encouraged to use the Annual Parish Meeting — and the Open Forum — to raise concerns, ask questions, and help shape the future of the village.

Thanks were extended to councillors, their families, the Clerk, volunteers, and all residents who contribute to village life. With one vacancy open, the Council warmly invites anyone interested to get involved.

Essex County Councillor Martin Foley explained his work in assisting the parish and fielded a number of concerns

Des Ashton from the Saffron Walden Food Bank gave an insight into the valuable work undertaken there, talking about how they provide emergency food and practical support to people in their hardest moments. They also work with partners and local communities to ensure everyone gets the right help long before they need a food bank

Thank You

Dear villagers

I have been running Hadstock info for the last seven years and have decided it is time to pass it on to someone new. The job is not onerous and it is a much-appreciated village communication tool.

If you are able and willing to take it on, please get in touch and I can give you all the details.

Many thanks

Dear Hadstocians

I have been running the Bring and Share Harvest lunch/supper for maybe 18 years now. I have been carrying on a tradition from John Crawley, who used to provide a lunch for all the farmworkers and their families.

Numbers have been dwindling, so it is time for someone younger to take over.

When my children were young, all the young families used to come!

But now, only people of a certain age are joining in the fun.

It doesn't take much work, just co-ordinating what everyone brings and the food is always topnotch; it doesn't have to be Bring and Share, or religious; you could get takeaway or Cook! Or a barbecue!!

It would be a shame to lose this annual community event, which brings people together; we even plate up a portion to deliver to the elderly who can't get out.

We already have a date, Sunday 4th October 2026 so please Save The Date!

Sonia
